Henry Chadwick

"FATHER OF BASE BALL"

BORN OCTOBER 6, 1824, IN JESSAMINE COTTAGE, ST. THOMAS, EXETER, ENG.

DIED APRIL 20, 1908, AT BROOKLYN N. Y.

HENRY CHADWICK

"THE FATHER OF BASE BALL"

In his eighty-fourth year, after a life full of activity, ever battling for the right, the Grand Old Man of the National Game, Henry Chadwick, the "Father of Base Ball," died in April, 1908, at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., shortly after the completion of his annual work of editing the SPALDING GUIDE, which he had supervised for nearly thirty years. Previous to his work on last year's GUIDE he had edited the first number of SPALDING'S OFFICIAL BASE BALL RECORD, and his enthusiasm and interest in the new book were as fresh and undimmed as if it was his first publication. That he did not slight his work with his advancing years the improvement in each succeeding number of the GUIDE bears testimony.

Henry Chadwick's whole life was centered in the National Game and he was ever an honest and fearless champion of what he considered was for the best interests of the sport and a relentless opponent of everything that savored of crookedness or dishonesty. He reiterated the necessity of character and honesty as fundamentals of the successful government of Base Ball, and to his constant endeavors, more than anything else, can be credited the high standing and unsullied reputation of the game as an honestly conducted sport.

A history of Mr. Chadwick's life and an account of his funeral, with extracts from leading newspapers and expressions from prominent men of the country, eulogistic of his career, will be printed in the annual issue of the SPALDING GUIDE, which will be published as usual in March.

Preface

The success of the initial number of SPALDING'S OFFICIAL BASE BALL RECORD last year greatly exceeded even the expectations of everyone connected with its compilation. That it supplied a requirement hitherto unfilled is attested by the numerous complimentary notices from the press and the Base Ball public in general, President Pulliam's statement expressing the universally accepted opinion of its usefulness. He said: "SPALDING'S OFFICIAL BASE BALL RECORD for 1908 should be possessed by not only every club owner, every professional ball player, but every lover of the game, simply as a complete record of the growth of Professional Base Ball in America."

While the RECORD is primarily a statistical resumé of the past season in the professional arena, it also contains a wealth of information that has heretofore been practically inaccessible to Base Ball lovers, and with the addition of new records and previously unchronicled events, that will be compiled from year to year, it is the ambition of the publishers to attain for the RECORD in its field the same eminence that is now occupied by the SPALDING GUIDE as the recognized authority on the National Game.

The GUIDE for the forthcoming season will be up to its usual high standard, with a number of new and interesting subjects, and illustrated with pictures of all the leading professional teams and players of the country. It will be published as usual in March.

AMERICAN SPORTS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Introduction

The thousands of Base Ball enthusiasts, who read the records which are presented in this volume for the season of 1908, will have the pleasure, as they pick it up from time to time, of gathering timely information in regard to the most wonderful year in the history of organized Base Ball.

It was the most wonderful year, because the most wonderful struggles for the championships in the major leagues, and in many of the minor leagues, were made by the players.

It was the most wonderful year because, for the first time in the history of the National League, the oldest organization in Base Ball, there was a three-cornered battle for the championship until almost the last day of the season. The American League, with its dual campaign, was but little less invigorating.

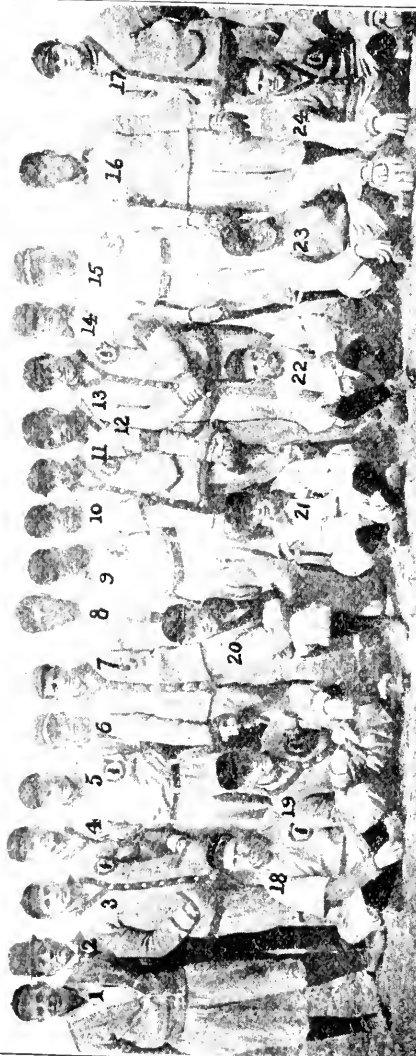

It was the most wonderful year, because the attendance was such that the grounds which heretofore accommodated the patrons of the game proved far too inadequate to hold the spectators. Record breaking crowds were the rule everywhere.

It was the most wonderful year, because of the many extraordinary feats which were performed on the diamond by the men who have made the game famous.

These facts SPALDING'S OFFICIAL BASE BALL RECORD, in the second year of its publication, is able to present to the Base Ball enthusiast in such compact form that between now and the beginning of another Base Ball season he shall be able to possess himself of that information which shall enable him to enjoy with keener relish the Base Ball race for the season of 1909.

The records of the major leagues are given, the records of the minor leagues, incidental records which have to do with various features of the great game, and greatest of all the condensed records of years of Base Ball history, something which is found in no other publication in the world, and something which is of the greatest value, as effort is made now and then during a season to compare the present with the past. No Base Ball publication which has even been attempted has begun to cover the general field of Base Ball as it is covered in the RECORD.

Year by year it will grow in importance and value, and to the Base Ball enthusiasts the editor suggests that they preserve their annual volumes of the RECORD. In years to come they will find them of worth beyond all present value, just as the early editions of Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide are now so eagerly sought in the market by those who are anxious of securing a complete file from the first year of publication.

 CHICAGO TEAM (NATIONAL LEAGUE), CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD.

The Year in Base Ball

JANUARY.

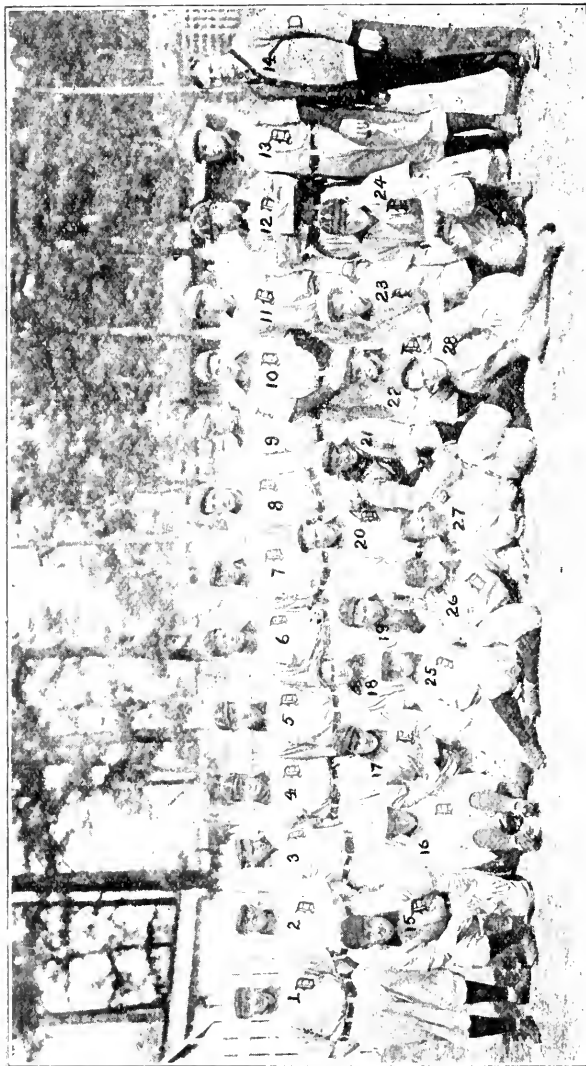

- 6—National Commission assembled at Cincinnati. Secretary Bruce announced that $131,475 had been paid for players drafted and $82,026 for players whose releases were purchased outright. August Herrmann was re-elected chairman and John E. Bruce secretary.
- 8—National Commission notified the New York National League club that it must pay $1,000 fine levied against it for withdrawing from the field at a game in New Orleans. Joint schedule committee of major leagues began session in Cincinnati.
- 17—President Pulliam declared the resolution adopted by National Association in regard to ineligible players to be a black-list, and announced that he would decline to serve on National Commission if it were not withdrawn.
- 18—National Commission announced its opposition to expansion of leagues whereby territorial invasion resulted. The Commission refused to reduce Pacific Coast League to a lower class than "A."
- 19—James O'Rourke insisted that his resolution about ineligible players, passed by National Association, was not intended as a black-list.
- 20—President Pulliam announced that he would withdraw from organized Base Ball if the objectionable "black-list resolution" were not retracted.

FEBRUARY.

- 7—President Hedges of the St. Louis American League club announced the purchase of "Rube" Waddell from Athletics.
- 24—Monte Cross banqueted by friends and Base Ball writers in Philadelphia. Fred Tenney signed a contract to play with the New York Nationals, his first season away from Boston since he began work in major league Base Ball.
- 25—National Commission adopted a resolution saying in effect that no league or club under its jurisdiction could consider itself paramount to the rulings of the Commission. This squelched the so-called black-list and ended President Pulliam's fight against it.
- 26—American League schedule was made public and for the first time no conflict appeared on Labor Day in New York, the Americans having the field to themselves, to be followed by the Giants in 1909.
- 27—National League schedule was made public. Changes in playing rules prevented the pitcher from soiling the ball and gave a sacrifice hit to a batsman who rapped a long fly to the outfield with a man on third, permitting him to score.

MARCH.

- 7—Charles H. Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn club, stated that he would give $10,000 for the release of Hoffman of Chicago. Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago club, voiced a protest against the public nuisance of organized rooters' clubs.
- 11—Ban Johnson announced his staff of umpires as Sheridan, O'Loughlin, Connolly, Evans, Egan, and Hurst.
- 16—National Commission fined the Boston American, Chicago American, Columbus and New Orleans clubs $100 each for not conforming to Base Ball law in selling players' releases.
- 25—Princeton defeated New York University 6 to 3, an unusually early opening of the college season in the East.
- 28—Harry C. Pulliam appointed O'Day, Johnstone, Emslie, Klem, Rigler, and Rudderham to be National League umpires.

- 13—New York Nationals released James to Columbus, Pfyf to Baltimore, Evans to Montreal and Devore to Newark.
- 14—American League season opened. New York defeated the Athletics in a twelve-inning game 1 to 0. St. Louis defeated Cleveland in ten innings 2 to 1. Spectators at New York numbered 16,184; Chicago, 20,000; Cleveland, 15,000; Boston, 14,000. National League season opened except at St. Louis, where it rained. Spectators at Philadelphia numbered 17,000; Brooklyn, 21,000; Cincinnati, 15,000. Jordan, of Brooklyn, made his first home run of the season.
- 15—All American and National League games postponed except the National League game at St. Louis. New Orleans defeated Mobile in twelve innings by the score of 2 to 0.
- 16—Detroit defeated Chicago 4 to 2 in ten innings. St. Louis defeated Cleveland 6 to 2 in tenth.
- 17—Cleveland defeated Detroit in twelfth inning, 12 to 8.
- 18—Mathewson struck out twelve of the Brooklyn team.
- 20—Chicago knocked Waddell out of the box. Philadelphia Nationals defeated Boston, 4 to 3, in ten innings. Clarke tied the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati game in the ninth inning with a home run, but Cincinnati won in the tenth.
- 21—Henry Chadwick, father of Base Ball, died at his home in Brooklyn from pneumonia.
- 22—New York Giants began season at home with Brooklyn, 25,000 spectators attending. Thirteen thousand spectators were at the opening game in Pittsburgh.
- 23—The funeral of Henry Chadwick was held in Brooklyn. Many elaborate floral pieces were sent by ball players and owners of Base Ball clubs. Pittsburgh alderman introduced an ordinance placing a tax of $75 upon every professional game played in city.
- 24—Philadelphia Americans defeated the Highlanders 3 to 2 in the twelfth inning. New York Nationals made but three hits against Pastorius of Brooklyn.
- 25—Brooklyn won its third successive game by the score of 4 to 1 from New York. The Giants made four hits against Rucker. Boston Americans defeated Philadelphia in eleven innings 3 to 2. Crawford's home run in the tenth inning won for Detroit from Cleveland. Columbia defeated Yale in fourteen innings by 7 to 4.
- 27—Boston Nationals made one base hit against Mathewson and he struck out only four men.
- 28—St. Louis Americans defeated Chicago in eleven innings 4 to 3. In three times at bat Joss of Cleveland made a triple and two doubles.
- 29—Boston Nationals defeated New York in eleven innings by the score of 7 to 6. Kelley tied the score in the tenth with a home run.

MAY.

- 1—Elberfeld was so badly injured in a game at Washington that he had to be carried from the field. Philadelphia Americans defeated Boston in eleven innings by the score of 5 to 4.
- 7—Rain prevented every game in both major leagues.
- 9—Devlin's line hit cleared the bases and won for the New York Nationals from the Bostons. Chicago defeated Pittsburgh 1 to 0.
- 10—Chicago and Pittsburgh broke even in a double header at Chicago.
- 11—National League Eastern teams began first visit to West.
- 12—Western American League teams began their first Eastern series. Cleveland played before 12,000 spectators in New York and won.
- 13—Mathewson was knocked out of the box by Pittsburg.

SPALDING'S OFFICIAL BASE BALL RECORD.

- 14—Philadelphia Americans defeated Chicago 1 to 0 in a pitcher's battle, Philadelphia making three hits against Smith and Chicago two against Vickers.
- 15—New York Nationals made nine runs in the eighth inning against Campbell, Cincinnati pitcher.
- 16—Philadelphia Americans shut out St. Louis, 1 to 0, in ten innings; Howell and Dygert being the pitchers. Mathewson ran into another bad game at Cincinnati and was taken out.
- 17—Six runs in the eighth against Wiltse by Cincinnati, lost a game for New York; Cincinnati made six hits.
- 18—Mathewson pitched another poor game against Cincinnati and was defeated. Chesbro was knocked out of the box by Detroit in the second inning, six runs being scored. The Philadelphia Americans used five pitchers and defeated St. Louis 12 to 10.
- 19—More than 24,000 spectators attended a game in Philadelphia to see Waddell pitch against the Athletics. St. Louis won.
- 21—The Atlantic League disbanded. Signs began to multiply that the Union League (outlaw) was in distress.
- 23—New York Nationals lost a double header to St. Louis. Cincinnati went to second place in the National League race. In a twelve-inning game between Mobile and Atlanta, Moran, Atlanta's left fielder, had nine put outs.
- 24—Players of the Atlanta and Mobile teams playing at Mobile were arrested for violating the Sunday law. New York Nationals beat Chicago in opening game before an immense crowd at Chicago.
- 25—Chicago Nationals knocked Mathewson out of the box and defeated New York in the tenth inning, the fourth time that Mathewson had been compelled to retire on the western trip.
- 26—Governor Warner, of Michigan, and a party of guests, saw Detroit defeat Philadelphia 1 to 0, at Philadelphia. Tinker, Seymour and Tenney made home runs in the New York-Chicago game.
- 27—Wiltse won his game, 1 to 0, New York Nationals against Chicago, by making a two-base hit with one man on base. Hughes, of Washington, struck out twelve Cleveland batters.
- 28—St. Louis won its third straight from the New York Americans, the beginning of the slump. Holy Cross and Seton Hall played fourteen innings to a tie. Score, 1 to 1.
- 29—Mathewson held Brooklyn to four hits, striking out eight men and New York won 1 to 0. Raymond, for St. Louis, singled in the eleventh inning and beat Chicago 4 to 3.
- 30—Rain interfered seriously with the Decoration Day games. The morning game was played in Brooklyn and none in Philadelphia in the National League. No game was played in New York in the American League. The attendance at the morning game in Brooklyn was 6,000. At two games in St. Louis 20,000; two in Pittsburg, 15,601; two games in Detroit, 20,061; two games in Boston, 11,362; two games in Cleveland, 16,679.

JUNE.

- 1—Ganzel, manager of the Cincinnati, protested the second game of a double header on the ground that Emslie, the umpire, made a mistake in permitting Higginbotham to bat a second time after he had struck out while batting out of turn.
- 2—Boston Americans put New York out of the lead by winning a double header. Cleveland beat Detroit in a double header.
- 3—Boston Nationals made four hits against Mathewson and were again blanked by New York. Lumley's home run over the fence won for Brooklyn against Philadelphia.
- 4—Chicago played the Boston Nationals seventeen innings to a tie, 1 to 1. Each nine scored in the seventh, Howard making a home run for Chicago and Beaumont scoring on a single, a base on balls and Bowerman's infield hit.
- 5—Downs' double and McIntyre's triple won for Detroit in the ninth inning from Boston.

- 6—Chicago Nationals defeated Boston 14 to 0. Detroit made eight fielding errors against Boston and lost. Athletics made but three hits against Howell of St. Louis and lost 2 to 0.
- 7—Cleveland took the lead in the American League race. Jennings and Donovan, of the Detroit team, were indefinitely suspended for kicking. Chicago Americans defeated Washington 2 to 1 in 10 innings. Altrock and Kieley were the pitchers. After all the National League clubs had waived claim on McGinnity, New York decided to retain him. With the bases filled and none out in the ninth inning, Mobile made a triple play and shut Memphis out 4 to 0.
- 8—Chicago took the lead in the American League race. Atz did it with a hit that permitted Davis to score.
- 9—Crandall pitched a fine game against Pittsburg and batted the ball into the left field bleachers for a home run, scoring two men ahead of him. Chicago took lead in American League.
- 10—Pittsburg defeated New York 1 to 0 in a pitchers' battle. St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 1 to 0 in ten innings. Sparks and Lush being the pitchers. Detroit tied the score in the tenth inning after New York had made two runs and won in the twelfth. Mullin, Newton and Lake were the pitchers.
- 11—Pittsburg defeated the Giants at the Polo Ground, and Gibson, the Pittsburg catcher, did not have a put out or an assist in the game. Secretary Locke of Pittsburg stated that the team played to the largest total attendance on its first visit to Philadelphia that it had ever enjoyed. Owing to the late arrival of Mobile from Nashville the game between Montgomery and Mobile was started at 5:45 P. M. and continued until 7 o'clock, being called on account of darkness; score, 3 to 0 in favor of Mobile.
- 12—Tenney made four hits in four times at bat against Willis of Pittsburg. Two of the hits were two baggers. Keeler, of the New York Americans, made four hits in four times at bat against Willett of Detroit. Chicago National League club won from Brooklyn in the eleventh inning by the score of 2 to 1. After a long succession of victories, the Cincinnati club was beaten by Boston by the score of 5 to 1.
- 13—The Detroit club, champions of the American League, raised the pennant before 13,000 spectators, the mayor making an address. Detroit defeated New York by the score of 5 to 2. Bresnahan, catcher for the New York National League team, sprained his ankle while sliding to the plate. Holmes made his first appearance in a National League game in the latter part of the contest between Brooklyn and Chicago. Two safe hits were all Cincinnati made off Ferguson, the Boston pitcher, and Cincinnati was shut out. St. Louis made a clean sweep of the Washington series. Mordecai Brown, Chicago's National League pitcher, permitted but two hits to be made by Philadelphia and Magee obtained both, Chicago winning the game 1 to 0. Boston Nationals beat Pittsburg 5 to 3, making five runs in the eighth inning. Nicklin, former New York National player, joined Baltimore. New York Nationals won a ten-inning game from Cincinnati by 3 to 2.
- 14—Anderson's two-base hit won a sensational game for the Chicago Americans in Chicago from New York and continued the winning streak of the "Sox." Smith, of Philadelphia Americans, made one of the few home runs that ever has been batted over the left field fence of the Detroit grounds.
- 15—The New York Nationals were ahead of the Cincinnati by the score of 7 to 3 when Umpire Johnstone called time in the fourth inning at the Polo Ground, after the teams had been playing in the rain from the beginning of the game. Taylor was fined $10 by Johnstone for appearing on the coaching line wearing a pair of rubber boots in mud that was ankle deep. All National League games were postponed by rain except that between Pittsburg and Boston in Boston. Bridwell was suspended by Manager McGraw, of the New York National League team, because he resented advice which had been offered to him by another member of the Corridon and Spade were the pitchers. The New York Nationals purchased the release of Paige, a Charleston pitcher.

- 21—St. Louis Nationals gave the New Yorks another hard contest, the Giants winning by the score of 4 to 2 in twelve innings. Mathewson and Sallee were the pitchers. St. Louis and New York Nationals broke even on a double header. Boston Americans beat the St. Louis team two games. Detroit won and made its lead greater than it had been any time during the season.
- 22—J. A. Sommer, who had caught for the Boston, Indianapolis, Chicago, and Cleveland teams, died at his home in Cleveland. Jordan, first baseman of the Brooklyn club, batted the ball over the right field fence in Pittsburg, it being the first time in nine years that such an occurrence took place. It was said to have been the longest hit ever made in Pittsburg. Chicago and Boston National League clubs played eleven innings with the score 2 to 2, the game being called because the players were obliged to catch a train. Newton, of the New York Americans, was released to the Newark club. Cleveland beat the Athletics 4 to 3 in a twelve-inning game. Baltimore beat Montreal 3 to 1 in eleven innings.
- 23—Cleveland announced the purchase of Falkenberg, a Washington pitcher, and Altizer, a Washington infielder, for $10,000. Chicago Americans won a double header from the New York Americans by 6 to 2 and 6 to 3. Detroit captured its third straight game from Washington. Philadelphia Americans won from Cleveland in the tenth inning by 1 to 0. Oldring was hit by a pitched ball and Hartsel knocked the ball over the fence.
- 24—Before 18,000 spectators at the Polo Ground, New York defeated Pittsburg 2 to 1, Wiltse and Willis pitching. The victory brought New York within one game of first place. Chicago defeated Brooklyn in eleven innings by the score of 2 to 1. Pfister, Reulbach and Wilhelm were the pitchers. In four times at bat Doyle, of the New York Nationals, made three hits, a triple, double and single. Willis was the pitcher.
- 25—New York National League officials admitted that the crowd which saw the game between New York and Pittsburg was the largest that ever was gathered on the Polo Ground. The exact attendance was not made public, but it was said to be more than 25,000. Pittsburg won and saved first place by the score of 7 to 2. The Giants dropped back to third place. Wagner made five hits in five times at bat. The first four were against Mathewson and the last against McGinnity. Two of the hits against Mathewson were doubles. The base ball nine of Corry, Pa., won in twenty-three innings from Falconer, N. Y.; score, 3 to 1; Bedient, pitcher for Falconer, struck out 42 men, and Bleford, of Corry, 16. Carl Sponberg, pitcher for Ogden in the Utah League, was secured by the Chicago National League club, with orders to come East at once. National Commission decided that the Newark club had failed to substantiate its claim to the services of John B. Miller, formerly with the Easton, Pa., club. A claim by the Williamsport, Pa., club for $2,500 from the St. Louis National League club for Delehanty, Charles and Sallee was rejected. The Williamsport club filed a private contract with the Commission to substantiate its claim, but as the contract had not been originally filed with the commission, it declined to accept it in compliance with former rulings.
- 26—Chicago Americans defeated Philadelphia in the tenth inning by the score of 2 to 1. Philadelphia's run was also made in the tenth inning. Devore, of Newark, made four hits in five times at bat against Henley, of Rochester. One was a two-bagger.

Philadelphia Nationals won a double header from the St. Louis club. Boston Nationals won a double header from the Cincinnati club.

- 28—This should be known as the day of extra inning contests. New York and Pittsburg played sixteen innings to a tie, score 2 to 2. Washington beat St. Louis in the sixteenth inning by the score of 2 to 1, Wallace's fumble being responsible for St. Louis' defeat. Altoona won from Lancaster by the score of 3 to 2 in the fourteenth inning. Jersey City made three runs in the twelfth inning and beat Montreal. St. Louis Nationals failed to score in the eleventh inning and were beaten by Philadelphia, which made its sole run in the tenth inning. Providence beat Toronto 5 to 4 in ten innings. Rochester defeated Newark 7 to 6, in eleven innings. Utica defeated Albany 3 to 0 in eighteen innings, neither team scoring for seventeen innings. Worcester defeated New Bedford by the score of 4 to 3 in fourteen innings. Lawrence defeated Lowell 5 to 1 in twelve innings. In the New York-Pittsburg game, Bresnahan played for ten innings without a put out or an assist, believed to be the first time that this ever happened to a catcher in base ball.
- 29—Jordan was out of the Brooklyn game because of a dislocated knee cap. Mathewson kept the St. Louis team to three scattered singles. Waddell, pitching for the St. Louis Americans, struck out sixteen of the Athletics. In the last half of the ninth inning St. Louis made three runs and won the game. Boston defeated Cleveland in the eleventh inning by the score of 4 to 3. Cicotte and Joss were the pitchers. Newton, formerly of the New York Americans, pitched his first game for Newark, and lost by the score of 2 to 1. Newark made five errors. Providence beat Toronto by the score of 5 to 2 in ten innings. McFarland, pitcher for the Helena, Ark., team, shut out the Pine Bluff team with only twenty-six batters facing him. The twenty-seventh man was called out for failure to come to the plate. At Sioux City in a game between two local nines, three brothers, Harry, Earl, and Clyde Cummins, pitcher, second baseman, and first baseman, made a triple play. Men were on first and second when a line drive was hit to Harry, who threw to second, and a quick relay to first completed the play.
- 30—Providence won by 7 to 6 in thirteen innings at Montreal. Bell, Brooklyn pitcher, shut out Pittsburg by the score of 2 to 0. Prior to the game he was notified that his child was very ill and might die, but he was unable to get a train until evening. Cleveland defeated the New York Americans 3 to 2 in fourteen innings. Bergen and Orth were the pitchers. Hemphill made four hits in five times at bat. McGinnity, of the New York Nationals, and Devlin, of the same team, made four hits in four times at bat against Karger and McGlynn, of St. Louis. Cobb, of Detroit, threw a Boston player out at first from right field.
- 31—Billiard was tried by the New York Americans against Cleveland and in the second inning in which he pitched Cleveland made six runs. After winning nine games, Detroit was beaten by Boston by the score of 9 to 5.

AUGUST.

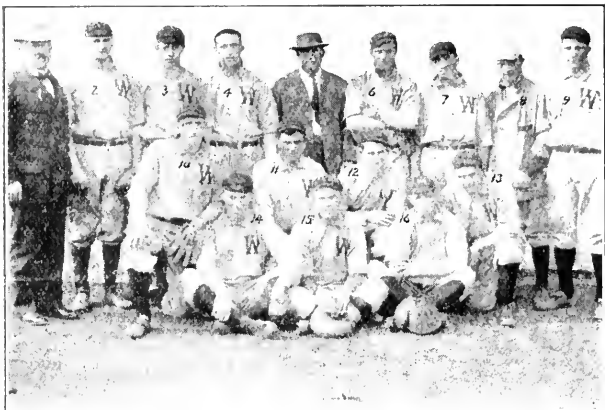

- 1—Joe Doyle, New York American pitcher, who had been loaned to Atlanta, was returned to New York, the Atlanta club affirming that his pitching arm was useless. - run. Newark won its fourth straight game from Buffalo. Philadelphia National League pitchers shut out Cincinnati twenty-nine consecutive innings with the game ending on August 1. Blue, catcher of the St. Louis American League club, was traded for Smith, catcher of the Athletics.
- 3—McIntyre of Brooklyn held the St. Louis team to one hit, a bunt by Reilly. Bridwell, shortstop for the New York Nationals, accepted twelve difficult chances against the Cincinnati team without an error. Barry of St. Louis Nationals was released to the New York Nationals. New York was notified that Weimer had pitched for an independent club in Chicago on August 2 and was ineligible to play until he made his peace with the National Commission. New York Nationals shut out Cincinnati, making thirty-eight consecutive innings for Cincinnati without a run.
- 4—In the first game of a double-header between the New York Nationals and Cincinnati the latter team went five innings without a run, making 43 consecutive innings of whitewash. They scored in the forty-fourth. New York Nationals defeated Cincinnati in the twelfth inning of the first game of a double-header by the score of 4 to 3. Doyle began with a safe bunt, went to third on a poor throw by Coakley, and scored on Bresnahan's single with no one out. New York Nationals won twice from Cincinnati and passed to second place in the National League race, Chicago losing to Philadelphia and Pittsburg to Boston. Seymour of the New York Nationals made two home runs in the second game of the double-header between New York and Cincinnati. Oshkosh won from Fond du Lac in the twenty-third inning by the score of 4 to 2. Reilly pitched for Fond du Lac and Pinkney for Oshkosh. Rain fell at Vicksburg, Miss., in a game between Vicksburg and Meridian in the Cotton States League. The regular diamond was unfit for play and the umpire, Laroque, permitted the Vicksburg owners to lay out a temporary diamond in the outfield and ordered both teams to continue the game. Vicksburg won by the score of 5 to 2 and the game was protested. Justus of Lancaster, O., pitched his second no-hit game against the Portsmouth, O., team. One man reached second base on an error. Two balls were hit to the outfield. Justus struck out ten men. On July 19 he pitched a no-hit game against Mansfield, only three balls being batted to the outfield.
- 5—With the score 3 to 0 in favor of the New York Nationals in the eighth inning, Cincinnati made four runs in the ninth, and the Giants tied the score in their half of the ninth, when the game was called. Had the New Yorks won they would practically have been tied for the leadership of the league. Up to the tie played with Cincinnati, New York had won seven straight games. Brandon, pitcher of Kansas City, was announced transferred to Pittsburg, the deal to be consummated at the end of the American Association season. Abstein, first baseman for Providence, was reported as signed by the Pittsburg club for 1909, the transfer to take place at the end of the Eastern League season. President Comiskey of the Chicago Americans purchased the release of Bader, the hard-hitting outfielder of the Des Moines, Ia., club.
- 6—Chicago Americans defeated Boston in the thirteenth inning by 2 to 1. White and Steele and Cicotte were the pitchers.
- 7—Philadelphia won from Detroit, Donovan, the Detroit pitcher, losing his first game on the home ground for the year.
- 8—New York National League club played to the largest crowd in the history of Base Ball. Chicago was the opposing team. The management did not give the exact attendance, but admitted that it was greater than for any game in the world's series with the Athletics. The Philadelphia and Pittsburg clubs played before 22,377 spectators in Philadelphia, the Pittsburgs winning the game in the tenth inning.
- 9—In the eighth inning of the game between St. Louis and Boston Americans, with the score 2 to 0 in favor of Boston, St. Louis scored eight runs. Two of them were home runs, one clearing the bases when Ferris hit the ball. Waddell made the other home run. Cobb rejoined the Detroiters after his marriage at Atlanta. The enthusiastic crowd almost mobbed Mrs. Cobb in the grandstand when the outfielder made a three-base hit. Philbin, Newark's catcher, made four singles in four times at bat against Duggleby and Bannister.

- 10—New York National League club drew the largest Monday attendance in the history of Base Ball, Chicago was the opposing club. No official figures were made public, but the crowd was estimated at 20,000. Bell, Brooklyn's pitcher, hit for three bases in the sixth inning of the game with Cincinnati and sent home enough runs to win his own game.
- 11—All records for Base Ball attendance were broken at a proposed "double-header" to have been played by the New York and Chicago National League teams at the Polo Ground in New York. At 2:20 P.M., twenty minutes after time for commencement of the first game, it became necessary to close the entrances to the Polo Ground, owing to the already crowded field. Thirty thousand spectators were estimated to be present, including both free and paid admissions. Rain at the beginning of the last half of the seventh inning drove the crowd to shelter. The game was abandoned and no attempt was made to play the second contest, because of wet grounds. Chicago, in three games played in New York, was supposed to have played to more than 65,000 spectators, the best record in the history of the national pastime for three successive games. Pittsburg won its last game from Philadelphia and returned home in the lead for the National League pennant after a very successful trip through the East. Base Ball writers met in New York to form a national association.
- 12—Bridwell of the New York Nationals made three hits in three times at bat against Rucker of Brooklyn. Three hits were made against Brown of Chicago by Pittsburg, and Chicago won handily.
- 13—"Cy" Young Day at Boston was one of the greatest successes as a public tribute to a popular player in the history of the National Game. The receipts amounted to $6,000, which were presented to the famous pitcher, and in addition to that he received three silver loving cups, a traveling bag from the umpires of the American League, flowers and other tributes. The Boston American League players appeared on the field in fantastic costumes. Young was dressed like a farmer. Two important National League games were won by whitewash scores. Pittsburg defeated Chicago 1 to 0 and Philadelphia defeated Boston 2 to 0.
- 14—McIlveen, formerly of Newark, played his first game for the New York American League club. St. Louis was defeated by Philadelphia in the American League and Detroit won, scoring a distinct gain for Detroit on the first round in the East. Washington defeated Chicago two games and Cleveland went to third place in the American League race. Thirteen innings were necessary before Pittsburg was able to defeat Boston in the National League race. Wagner drove home the winning run in the thirteenth inning. Newark won in the eleventh inning from Toronto by the score of 2 to 1. - 5—Frank J. Farrell, owner of the New York American League club, announced that he had appointed George T. Stallings manager of the team for 1909 with full control. The National Commission issued a statement that White, Fience, Atz, Purtell, Smith, Owen, Donohue, Altrock and Roth of the Chicago American League club, had rendered themselves ineligible to play, because they had violated the rules of the National Commission in taking part in games with other clubs which are not members of organized Base Ball.
- 11—It was announced by the Brooklyn club that P. J. Donovan, manager of the team, would not be re-engaged for the season of 1909. An offer of $10,000 was made by Charles Comiskey, the owner of the Chicago American League club, for the services of Criger, catcher of the Boston American League club, but the offer was refused. Malachi Kittredge was signed to act as manager of the Wilkes-Barre club for the season of 1909. Members of the American Association and Eastern League clubs, in annual convention with the members of the National Association of Minor Leagues, withdrew from the meeting after they were refused such concessions in reclassification of the club members as they had asked. They sought to have the Southern League and the Western League reduced to Class B in order that they might find a wider field for the drafting of players. Refused in that they asked permission to withdraw from the National Association in order that they might hold a consultation with the members of the major league. This, too, was refused. Wichita and Topeka were made members of the Western League, increasing that organization from six clubs to eight.
- 17—The franchise of the Tecumseh, Mich., club was sold to Charles D. Cassell of Newcastle, Pa., for $2,000. The Brandon club of Canada was fined $250 for playing Ford, a catcher, who belonged to the Philadelphia American League club. The National Commission said neither Ford nor the club had any excuse to offer which could stand. Ford was placed on the ineligible list.
- 18—Base Ball owners of the Eastern League and of the American Association met at Buffalo and formulated a series of requests to be placed before the National Commission by a committee of members composed of P. T. Powers, Edward Hanlon, C. T. Chapin and Walter O'Mara of the Eastern League and Joseph O'Brien, George Tebean, W. H. Watkins and C. S. Havenor of the American Association. The committee was notified to meet the National Commission in New York on December 7 with the endeavor to gain more liberal treatment in Base Ball. The Tri-State League adopted a salary limit of $2,500 a month. The monthly pay of any individual player was limited to $225. Easton and York were applicants for franchises. The New England League met at Boston. The playing season of 1909 was extended to 126 games. D. F. Clohecy of the Haverhill club was made a life member.

- 26—A. G. Spalding announced that he would present the University of Chicago with his private Base Ball library, and also with that of the late Henry Chadwick and the late Harry Wright.
- 27—Bliss, St. Louis National League catcher, declared ineligible by the National Commission for playing with a suspended player.

DECEMBER.

- 1—John J. McCloskey, former St. Louis National League manager, was made manager of the Milwaukee club.
- 5—P. H. Murphy, pitcher for the Bridgeport, Conn., team, died in Leominster, Mass., of pneumonia.
- 6—The American Association and the Eastern League held a meeting in New York, at which plans were made to place their petition for relief before the National Commission.
- 7—At National League headquarters in New York, P. T. Powers, president of the Eastern League; J. D. O'Brien, president of the American Association, and Henry Killilea, attorney for the Class A clubs, presented a petition to the National Commission, asking that they be granted the privileges of a separate organization under the National Agreement. D. M. Shively, J. H. Farrell, James H. O'Rourke, T. H. Murnane, and M. H. Sexton, of the National Association, were present and heard the argument. The National Association asked until the following Wednesday morning to make reply, which was granted.
- 8—Members of the National League, at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, re-elected Harry C. Pulliam, president of the organization, and John A. Heydler, secretary and treasurer. The championship was formally voted to the Chicago club for 1908.
- 9—American League meeting held in New York. Charles W. Somers was re-elected vice-president, and the St. Louis, Detroit, Philadelphia and Washington clubs were appointed to the Board of Directors. A committee from the Class A clubs of the National Association called upon both the National and the American Leagues with a request to be permitted to operate independently of the National Association. It was finally decided to postpone the matter for a further hearing before the National Commission at Cincinnati, January 4. The championship was formally voted to the Detroit club.
- 10—A joint conference of the American League and the National League was held at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York for the first time since the adoption of the new National Agreement. Boston American League club traded catcher Origer to the St. Louis American League club, with a bonus of $5,000 offered by St. Louis. The National League voted to make up whatever sum was necessary to complete the fund for a monument to Henry Chadwick, the "Father of Base Ball."
- 11—Harry C. Pulliam, president of the National League, made public his charge that attempts had been made to bribe Umpires Klem and Johnstone prior to the last game of the season, played on the Polo Ground between the Chicago and the New York clubs.
- 12—The New York National League club traded Bresnahan to St. Louis, to act as manager of the National League club in that city. St. Louis gave to New York pitcher Raymond, and outfielder Murray, and to Cincinnati pitcher Karger, and either Lush, or Fromme, pitchers. Cincinnati gave New York catcher Schlei. All trades were contingent upon each other.
- 13—Harry C. Pulliam, National League president, and B. B. Johnson, American League president, started for California to try to bring the outlaw league into line.

World's Championship Records

The post-season series of Base Ball games, now known as the "World's Championship Series," really had their inception in October, 1884, when contests were arranged between the Providence club, the National League Champions, and the Metropolitan club of New York, American Association Champions. No series was played in 1891. In 1892 the National League season was divided into two parts, Boston winning the first half and Cleveland the second. In the play-off Boston won. There were no games in 1893, and in 1894 a new series was inaugurated—the Temple Cup series—for contests between the two leading clubs in the National League. This series continued up to 1898, when it was discontinued, and no further post-season championship games were held until 1903, when the National and American League winners—Pittsburg and Boston—met. In 1904 no games were played, but in 1905 they were resumed under the auspices of the National Commission, under whose supervision they have since been held. The following is the record up to date:

"PLAY BALL."

The A. G. Spalding Bronze Championship Trophy.

The above group is executed in bronze, the figures being 18 inches high, and was presented to the Public Schools Athletic League of Greater New York by Mr. A. G. Spalding as a perpetual trophy for annual competition between the elementary schools of Greater New York, the winning school to have custody of the statuette for one year. In the first competition, held in 1905, 103 schools were entered, the winner being Public School 46, Manhattan. Public School 10, Brooklyn, won in 1906 and again in 1907; Public School No. 9 of Brooklyn won it in 1908. A similar trophy was presented by Mr. Spalding to the Cleveland Public Schools League.

Extracts from Mr. A. G. Spalding's Address

On the occasion of the presentation of the Spalding "Play Ball" Trophy to the winners of the Elementary Base Ball Championship of Greater New York, at Public School No. 9, Brooklyn, October 9, 1908.

I congratulate the Principal of this school in being at the head of an institution that has made such marked advance in athletics during the first year of its introduction into the curriculum of this school. I congratulate the team in winning the Elementary School Base Ball Championship of Greater New York for 1908, and I also congratulate the scholars of this school who aided in this result by their loyalty and enthusiasm.

You went through the hard practice work that is so essential to final success; you played and won out in the preliminaries, in the semi-finals and in the final game. You have tasted the joys of victory; you have had your celebrations on the field and in a few moments you will receive the emblem of victory, and then the games and the celebrations of 1908 will become things of the past, but Public School No. 9 will continue to appear in the Base Ball records as the champions of 1908.

Now let us consider some of the lessons that this Base Ball championship has taught.

Your Principal has just related to me this incident with which I know you are all familiar.

He said that just previous to one of your final games your brilliant pitcher had flunked some of his studies and in consequence had received such a low scholarship mark that, according to the rules of the Public Schools Athletic League, made him ineligible to pitch for his team in this important game. No doubt the pitcher was chagrined, his team-mates discouraged, and the scholars of this school almost panic-stricken. I can imagine the pressure that was brought to bear on your Principal to induce him to reverse his ruling and overlook this pitcher's disqualifying scholarship mark. I can imagine the scholars of this school, almost with tears in their eyes, arguing for a reinstatement of this popular young pitcher, and no doubt your Principal was given plainly to understand that if he did not relent and change his ruling, the forthcoming game would be lost, and with it probably the championship.

No doubt your Principal sympathized with you in your alarm about the loss of that game, and his emotions may have been strained by your tears, but he had a duty to perform; he was acting in the capacity of a judge; the pitcher had violated the eligibility rules, and his final decision was that your popular pitcher could not appear in that game, and as you all suspected, that particular game was lost by the team of this school.

No doubt a spirit of gloom settled over this school for the time being, and it is equally certain that a spirit of determination took hold of your pitcher. He applied himself to his studies and before the next and final game he acquired the necessary scholarship mark; appeared in the pitcher's position in the final game, which was won by this school, and with it the Championship of Greater New York.

Here is a splendid illustration of one of the many lessons that are taught on the athletic field and shows the practical benefit of a League of this kind.

Apply this and similar lessons which abound in athletic sports and you have gone a long way toward solving many of the more serious problems of life. This is a children's age and it is an athletic age, and if these two ages can in some way be welded together, humanity can look forward to better things, better manhood, better womanhood, and better citizenship.

Your great-grandfathers knew nothing of athletic sport as it is now understood. Your grandfathers got an inkling of its coming. Your fathers' youth was spent in a growing athletic atmosphere, but your generation is basking in the sunshine of athletic sport in its highest sense. The parent now encourages his children in their natural love of athletic sports, and the advanced educators of the day now recognize the great importance of clean athletic sports, not only as a physical benefit, but a mental and moral benefit as well.

There is born in every boy and girl an intense love of play, and as athletic sport is nothing more nor less than organized play, there is a natural and inborn love of athletics in its various forms which nothing can extinguish.

I consider the recently organized Public Schools Athletic League of Greater New York as the most remarkable athletic organization in the world, for I know of no institution that has higher athletic ideals and none other that has athletic jurisdiction over 300,000 school children.

This Public School Athletic League—a pioneer in its particular field—was organized in this city late in 1903, and commenced its activities in 1904. Its phenomenal success in directing the athletic activities of the public school children of Greater New York have caused similar organizations to spring up in other cities. The Public Schools Athletic League movement marks an epoch in American sports and is worthy of the most enthusiastic support, not only by parents, teachers and advanced educators, but more especially by the present generation of boys and girls to whom it means so much.

MINOR LEAGUE PLAYERS WHO HAVE ADVANCED TO THE MAJOR LEAGUES.

The Study of Figures

To most persons the simple statement that "twice two make four" is a dry maxim, with no necessity for dispute, because it is an accepted fact the world over. They look at the figures with as little interest as a Hottentot might look at them, unless by some chance their significance is personal. If twice two should mean double rations for the casual reader of the figures, he would be likely to give them a second glance.

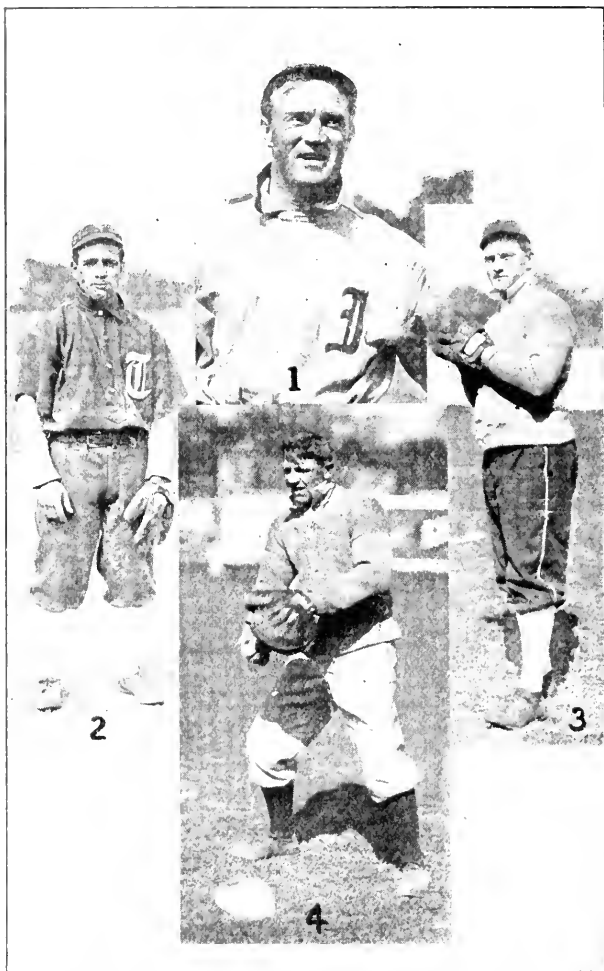

Somewhat similar interest attaches to the figures of percentage averages in Base Ball. Not only do they stand as a certain rating, which attaches to the player to whom they are credited, but they bring with them a flood of personal memories, which without that urging, might remain dormant for years.

When one reads, for instance, the records of such veterans as A. G. Spalding, George Wright, Ross Barnes, and scores more of others who might be cited, the first impulse is to recall some particular play or game in which one of them took part, and the next to note whether Base Ball of the present is up to the standard which was set by the pioneers of the sport. It is almost impossible to feel otherwise.

Somebody mentions the fact that John Smith batted so and so in a certain year, and everybody at once is able to form a fair estimate of Smith's value to his club in that particular season. So soon as Smith's case is mentioned it is reasonably certain that another will bring up the figures of Brown, another of Jones, and so it will go almost indefinitely, the enthusiast of the sport fixing to some degree his keenest enjoyment of the game upon the dry and absolutely realistic combination of a few matter-of-fact figures.

So infatuated do some become with the study of comparative analysis of ball players, through the medium of figures, that they devote hours to the tables which are presented in this volume of statistics. They have averages at their tongue's ends and they revel in them. They can recall that such and such a player of a decade past batted at such an average and fielded at such an average, and will be able to name those players of the present whom they consider to be in this man's class.

There is also a keen rivalry which attaches to figures. The player who can make an average in one year which is higher than that of the year before will not be slow in calling the attention of his manager to the improvement of his work. No matter how much that manager may pretend to scoff at the value of Base Ball, as rated by figures, he experiences some satisfaction that the player takes pride in his work, as his standing is improved.

Another rivalry is that between players. It is not so intense with some as it is with others. Those who live for averages alone are likely not to be the best ball players in the world, but those who strive with all their might and also make a satisfactory record, are usually the players who receive the highest salaries.

One of the greatest values of figures in Base Ball is that to date they are the only really useful mediums which we have to record the past in space as much condensed as possible. To begin with the earliest days of Base Ball and attempt to give each player a rating in words would fill volumes.

With the aid of figures, however, it is possible to place in a comparatively few pages, within the reach of everybody, such a record of these great leagues of ours as is easily understood throughout the length and breadth of the land. By the use of these figure-records it is also possible to perpetuate the names of those splendid men who, from time to time, have been the builders of our great national sport.

Every player, young or experienced, who takes part in the game, is eager to leave behind him something which the future shall record to his favor. A few simple figures may tell it all, and as succeeding generations take their places in the game, they find spread before them an epitome of the deeds of those who have gone before.

So the study of figures, after all, has come to be one of the most interesting phases of Base Ball, and many and many a good story is recalled of the past, when the time is taken to delve into those records which have been indelibly traced where all men may read.

In winning the Eastern League pennant Baltimore participated in 4 tie games, figured in 18 shut-outs, winning 13, losing 4, and the other resulted in a no-run tie. Forty-four games were decided by a single run, and out of this number Baltimore won 21 and had the small end in 23. In order to more fully illustrate the evenness of the struggle in the league the pennant winners were forced to go extra innings in 11 battles. Two of these went thirteen innings and four games each went ten, eleven and twelve innings. In all, there was no let-up from start to finish of the race.

The most remarkable game of the season was between the rival Newark and Jersey City teams on July 5, when the teams struggled for nine teen innings without either side scoring. King Brockett of Newark was pitted against Lafitte, who has been purchased by the Detroit. In the long battle Brockett allowed 6 hits, struck out 14 and gave 3 bases on balls, while Lafitte held Newark to 3 hits and equalled Brockett's strike-out efforts.

Two twirlers entered the hall of fame during the season with no-hit games to their credit—Barry of Providence on June 28 retired Jersey City without a hit, and on July 6 Mitchell of Toronto duplicated the feat with Montreal as opponents.

At Aberdeen, May 6, the Aberdeen and Butte teams played twenty innings to a draw, the record game of the Northwestern League; the score was 3—3. Califf, for Aberdeen, struck out 16 men. Thomas pitched for Butte.

At Seattle, on Labor Day, Holm, the Spokane pitcher, was in the box for two games and shut out the home team without a run. In the first game, which was an eleven inning contest, he allowed only three hits, the score being 1-0; in the second game he did even better, only two of the Seattle players getting credit for a hit apiece. He gave only one base on balls and struck out twelve men. Not a Seattle player got past first base.

On September 27, at Tacoma, the Spokane and Tacoma teams played three consecutive games, the home team winning the three by the scores of 4—1, 7—0, 7—3. The last game was stopped by darkness in the eighth inning. The only other case on record in organized Base Ball where three games have been played in one day by the same clubs is that of Brooklyn vs. Pittsburg, in the National League, on September 1, 1890, when Brooklyn won all three.

Barberich of Worcester led the pitchers in assists, having 200 in 37 games.

Barton, who played with Haverhill and Lynn, led in sacrifice hitting, making 50 sacrifices in 125 games.

On May 27, at Worcester, O'Toole of Lynn pitched a no-hit-no-run game, only two of the home team reaching first base, one on a pass, and the other on an error.

Maybohm of Lawrence pitched a fifteen-inning game against Lynn on June 27, at Lawrence. He allowed Lynn but four hits and scored the only run of the game himself.

Orr, who played at first base and in the outfield for Lynn, participated in the greatest number of games, 129, out of the 130 played by his club. Lynn also played more games than any other team.

Worcester is now a three-time winner, under Jesse Burkett's guidance, but has yet to equal Matt River's quadruple win in the years 1893-4-5-6. The only other triple winner in the New England League's eighteen years of existence was Portland, which carried off the honors in 1899-1900-1901.

Five players batted better than .300 in 1908—Catterson of Brockton, now with the Brooklyn National League team, with .327; Gardner of Lynn, with .305; Beard of Lowell, Melnis of Haverhill and Boardman of Haverhill each had .301. Boardman led in two-base hits in 1908, having 32.

In a sixteen-inning game between New Bedford and Lynn on July 21, at Lynn, Robinsen, who pitched the entire sixteen innings for New Bedford, won his own game in the last inning by knocking out a three-bagger with two men on bases. The score was 3-1. A double-header had been scheduled for the day, but the second one was postponed.

Flynn of Lawrence led the league in stolen bases, having 76 to his credit. He also scored the greatest number of runs, 92 in 128 games; Barrow of New Bedford was second, scoring 78 runs in 125 games. Billy Hamilton's record of 113 runs in 113 games, when he led the Haverhill winners in 1904, was not approached, however. Hamilton was up among the leaders again last season with 63 runs in 85 games. He also made 87 hits.

Lawrence, the runner-up in the race, had the greatest number of home runs to its credit, 21, although in club batting the team was next to last. The figures show that good base running was a big factor in attaining second position, as the two leading base stealers of the league, Flynn and Harter, belonged to that team, stealing between them 129 bases. Flynn also held the league's record for greatest number of runs scored, while Harter was tied for third place with Messenger of Fall River with 47 runs.

The first triple play ever made on the Altoona grounds was pulled off in the Altoona-Johnstown game of May 26.

In six games that Coveleski of Lancaster pitched on the home grounds in the early part of June he struck out forty-nine men.

Three old major league players were on the Harrisburg team during the past season—Huelsman, Sebring and Selbach. They followed each other in the batting order.

Wilmington won a great 18-inning game from Trenton at Wilmington on the afternoon of July 4. It was a pitchers' battle between Popham of Wilmington and Mattern of Trenton. The score was 2—1.

At Lancaster on June 30, Coveleski of Lancaster pitched in both games of a double-header between Trenton and Lancaster and won them both. In the second game he allowed Trenton but one hit. He struck out seven in the first game and six in the second.

No less than thirteen players batted above the .300 mark last season in this league. Gordon of Harrisburg led with the fine average of .394 in 20 games; Wolverton of Williamsport batted .349 in 125 games; Huelsman, Harrisburg, .338 in 128 games, and Cree, Williamsport, now with the New York Americans, .332 in 92 games.

At Wilmington on May 1, in a game between Johnstown and Wilmington, Kroh, the Johnstown pitcher, shut his opponents out without a hit in ten innings. He also struck out eleven men and gave but two bases on balls. Jackson, for Wilmington, pitched good ball also, but five hits being gleaned off his delivery, and he did not pass a man. The score was 1—0.

In the games of June 16 and 17, at Altoona, between Reading and Altoona, double-headers being played on both days, the first game of each day was an extra inning affair. On the first day it took Altoona fifteen innings to defeat Reading, with Reisling pitching for the home team, and on the second day Reading won out in the fourteenth inning, with Emerson pitching. The scores were 2—1 and 4—3.

South Bend was shut out without a hit by Pitcher Hagerman of Grand Rapids on July 5.

Wheeling was shut out without a hit on May 11 by Pitcher Alberts of South Bend.

Twenty-three hits were made off Pitchers Malloy and Jaeger of the Fort Wayne team, on June 27, when Evansville beat the former by 13 to 1.

On September 8, although Terre Haute had a lead of twelve runs in the seventh inning, Evansville scored fourteen in the same inning, winning by 15 to 12. Evansville made 19 hits and Terre Haute 22.

Grand Rapids and South Bend tussled for seventeen innings at Grand Rapids on July 20, South Bend finally winning by the score of 2 to 1. Martin was the winning pitcher, Dixon being the Grand Rapids twirler.

At Wheeling, August 22, the local record for extra inning games was broken when Terre Haute defeated Wheeling in nineteen innings by a score of 3 to 2. Not a hit was made off West, the Terre Haute pitcher, after the seventh inning; Rogers was in the box for Wheeling.

Although sixth in the race at the finish, Zanesville led the other clubs in three-base hits and home runs, having 80 of the former and 29 of the latter, and being excelled in two-base hits only by Fort Wayne, who scored 140 to Zanesville's 137.

South Bend, the third in the season's race, scored more sacrifice hits than any other team, having made 302, and also excelled in base stealing, the club's total for the season being 297. Craven helped materially in the latter, leading the league in that department, with 87 in 117 games.

President Wells was once a very popular player on the Richmond team, in 1895 and 1896.

Doyle, the Danville second baseman, led the Virginians in sacrifice hitting, 42 being the high mark for 1908.

On September 2, at Lynchburg, Vernuelle of the home team pitched eleven innings without passing a batter to first base.

The umpiring in the Virginia League was of a high class. The Richmond Journal credits President Wells for his ability in selecting such competent officials.

Al Orth, who returned to Lynchburg from the New York Americans, after an absence of thirteen years, participated in nineteen games, with a batting average of .321.

Fourteen games won, two tie games and not one lost is the remarkable record of the Richmond twirler, Quinn. A percentage of 1.000 for as many games is very seldom seen.

Walsh of Danville, a brother of the famous Ed Walsh of the White Sox, was second in the league's pitching honors. Out of forty games pitched he scored 30 wins, lost 9 and tied 1.

Pitcher Morrissey of Roanoke has played every position, except catcher, on that team. He also pitched in two games where only twenty-nine and thirty-one men faced him, respectively.

The following no-hit games were played in the league last season: Schuman of Lynchburg vs. Roanoke, April 25; Loos of Danville vs. Norfolk, July 15, and Quinn of Richmond vs. Norfolk, August 28.

V. Sitton of Jacksonville led the pitchers with 17 won, 5 lost and 1 tie. On May 18 Pitcher Friend of the Columbia team pitched a no-hit game against Augusta, winning by 1—0.

In sacrifice hits, Bierman of Augusta led with 44, closely pressed by Lewis of Macon with 41.

Pitcher Salve of Columbia on July 24 shut out Jacksonville without a hit.

Pitcher P. Sitton of Augusta on August 3 shut out Columbia without a hit. Only twenty-eight men faced him.

Pitcher V. Sitton of Jacksonville on August 1 shut out Macon without a hit. Only twenty-nine men faced him.

P. Sitton, the Augusta pitcher, shut out Jacksonville in both games of a double-header on August 7 at Augusta.

Pitcher Sitton of Augusta on May 9 held Savannah to one scratch hit, yet lost his game, 1—0, on a base on balls, a steal, an out and a wild pitch.

In the eleven inning 0—0 game of May 19 between Charleston and Jacksonville, Pitcher Viebahn held Jacksonville to two hits, and Pitcher Sitton held Charleston to four hits.

Only two men reached the .500 mark in this league in 1908—Murdock of Macon batting .302 and Dexter of Augusta an even .300. Murdock also led in base hits, having 140 in 120 games.

Jacksonville played in good form throughout the season, for in addition to winning the pennant, with a lead of 107 points over its nearest competitor—Savannah—it also led in both team batting and team fielding.

Pekey of Savannah led in stolen bases, with 59, closely followed by Chandler of Jacksonville with 56, who was just one better than Ball of Charleston, who had 55.

In run-getting Bigbee of Columbia and McMahon of Columbia and Augusta tied for first honors with 55 each. Viola and Chandler, both of Jacksonville, had 54 and 53, respectively.

Manager Dexter of Augusta made four hits out of four times at bat in a game between Savannah and Augusta on June 5, one of the hits being the longest ever seen on the Augusta grounds.

Jacksonville, on June 25, made 15 runs (7 in one inning and 6 in another) and 19 safe hits off Pitchers Clark and Lewis of Macon. Shortstop McMillan made five hits in five times at bat.

On July 14, at Savannah, in a double-header between Savannah and Columbia, the latter did not score a run in 21 innings—13 innings in the first game and 8 in the last. Hixon and Hoff were the pitchers for Savannah and Volz and Welsher twirled for Columbia.

At Columbia, on June 26, was played the record game of the season. For sixteen innings Pitchers Salve of Columbia and Keiber of Savannah battled, the former having slightly the best of the pitching. Both were well supported. In the sixteenth two singles and a wild throw gave the game to Columbia. The score was 1—0. Salve struck out 10 men and allowed but three hits. Five double plays were pulled off in the course of the game, three by Columbia and two by Savannah.

Gaspar of Waterloo, on August 19, shut out Oskaloosa with one hit.

Pitcher McCarthy of Jacksonville shut out Oskaloosa with one hit on July 9.

Linderbock of Quincy led in home runs and two-base hits, having 10 of the former and 40 of the latter. He made 6 three-baggers.

Donovan of Burlington led in sacrifice hits, having 48 in 122 games, closely followed by Pennington of Waterloo with 44 in 114 games.

Pitchers Prough and Bramble of Keokuk pitched one-hit shut-out games on August 27 and 31, respectively, the former against Jacksonville and the latter against Waterloo.

In the thirteen-inning Jacksonville-Burlington game of August 17 Jacksonville made eight runs and sixteen hits and Burlington made seven runs and fourteen hits, or one run for every two hits by each team.

Four players batted better than .300 last season. Holstrom of Burlington had .367 in 41 games; House, Burlington, .306 in 112 games; Eise, Burlington, .302 in 122 games, and Swalm, Waterloo, .301 in 28 games.

Ottumwa was the victim in two no-hit games, once on May 31, when Pitcher Eis of Burlington officiated, and again on June 27, when Patrick pitched for Jacksonville. In the former game only twenty-eight men went to bat and only one reached first base, due to an error. Kewanee was shut out on July 11 by Pitcher Gaspar of Waterloo.

Pitcher Sullivan of Austin, on July 16, shut out Waco without a hit.

Pitcher Bayless of Dallas, on August 27, shut out Shreveport without a hit.

Maloney of Dallas, who was third in batting, made the greatest number of two-baggers, 34.

In the Galveston-Dallas game on August 8 Dallas made 14 runs on 11 hits, Galveston making only 9 on 15 hits.

Thebo of Shreveport led the base stealers by a wide margin, having 90 to his credit in 135 games, his runner-up being Collins of San Antonio who had 68 in 141 games.

Four pitchers passed the .300 mile post in 1908—Salm, Fort Worth with .304; Griggs, San Antonio, with .303; Maloney, Dallas, with .300 and Westerzil, San Antonio, with .301.

Houston and Galveston had a fifteen inning contest on May 21 that had the spectators on edge, until the Galveston team made two runs that settled the contest. Hise pitched for Galveston and Hester for Houston.

The Texas League had the honor of furnishing the leading batsman of the American League for 1908, Criss of St. Louis, who formerly was with Cleburne. Owen Wilson, the Pittsburg right fielder, played with Fort Worth in 1907.

Shreveport and San Antonio battled for fifteen innings on August 7 at Shreveport, with no better result than a tie, darkness causing the game to be called at the expiration of that period. Neither team scored up to the eighth inning, when each made one run, after which there was no more scoring. Winchell pitched for San Antonio and Ray for Shreveport. Collins had a monopoly of the base stealing, getting away with three.

San Antonio and Dallas had an exciting race to within ten days of the finish, when San Antonio pulled out and won, after taking eighteen straight games. The veteran George Leidy piloted the team up to the latter part of August, when he was succeeded by Newnam. The team was made up as follows: Pitchers, Mitchell, Ables, Harris, Dupree; catchers, Alexander and Coveney; infielders, Newnam, first base; Grigg, second base; Weitzel, third base; Markley, shortstop, outfielders, Collins, Stovall and Leidy.

San Antonio had some heavy hitters on the team. Newnam led the league in home runs, 18; Griggs had 12 three-baggers, Collins 9, and Stovall and Newnam 8 each; Collins and Newnam were the chief base stealers of the team, the former being the second best in the league with 68, and the latter had 63. In sacrifice hits Leidy was tied with Nance of Waco for the greatest number in the league, 37, while Markley was second with 31. In number of runs scored San Antonio also led Collins having 113 in 141 games, while Newnam was second with 106 in 147 games.

Jackson of Greenville made 3 home runs on June 16 off the Winston pitcher.

On June 24 Winston made 24 runs and 18 hits off four Spartanburg pitchers.

In the Anderson-Greenville game of May 25 Pitcher Barre shut out Anderson with one hit, while Pitcher Willis held Greenville to one hit and one run.

Quarter of Winston kept among the first quintette in batting, sacrifice hitting and base stealing, leading all the other players in the latter department with 41 to his credit.

It was a race of the emeralds, Greensboro finally nosing out Greenville by two points in the pennant race. Greenville, however, had the edge of it over Greensboro in club batting and club fielding.

Hammersley of Greensboro, who had the second best averages of the pitchers, pitched the greatest number of games of any in the association. Of thirty-two games he won twenty-two, lost eight and tied two.

Sacrifice hitting was pretty light in the association, only twenty-five pitchers doing better than ten hits for the season. The leaders were Edward of Winston, with 30; Maley, also of Winston, with 25, and Ober and Buesse of Spartanburg, with 24 each.

Two extra length games in 1908 that created a lot of interest were the contest between Winston and Anderson on July 23, which went for fifteen innings, finally ending in a 4—4 tie, and the game the very next day between Spartanburg and Charlotte, which took twelve innings to solve the winner—Charlotte—by 2 to 1.

Pitcher Bailey of Mansfield on May 27 struck out fourteen Lancaster batsmen.

Pitcher White of Lancaster on May 31 shut out Newark without a hit and struck out eleven men.

Pitcher Mock of Lancaster on June 1 shut out Newark without a hit, only twenty-eight men faced him.

The greatest run-getter in the league was Brown of Lancaster, who crossed the plate 103 times in 152 games.

Pitcher White of Lancaster on May 8 held Mansfield to two hits, yet lost his game, 2-0, on a wild throw by the catcher.

On June 8, Manager Ransick decided to transfer his team from Springfield to Portsmouth. They opened there on June 16.

Lima on July 29 made 14 runs and 17 hits off the Portsmouth pitcher. On the same day Mansfield made 16 hits off the Marion pitcher.

On May 20 Marion and Newark played a fourteen-inning tie game, and on the same date Mansfield defeated Springfield 6-5 in thirteen innings.

Wolf of Marion and Portsmouth was the leader in sacrifice hits, with 4 in 141 games, closely followed by Eichberger of Lancaster with 56 in 5 games.

In home runs Foutz of Lima led with 12, with Kahl, also of Lima, second, with 11. Channel was first in three-base hits, with 18, and Snyder of Newark second with 13.

In stolen bases A. Reilly of Lima made a good showing, having stolen 9 bases in 138 games. His nearest competitor was M. Smith of Newark, who purloined 59 bases in 149 games.

Six men batted better than .300 in this league the past season. Tate of Marion led with .320 in 140 games, with Channel and Jewell, both of Mansfield, tied for second honors with .313. Tate also led in base hits with 169 and was the leader in two-base hits with 38.

On the opening day of this league, April 23, at Newark, in a game between the Newark and Lancaster teams, the latter defeated the former in a splendidly played eighteen-inning game by the score of 2 to 1. Pitcher White of Lancaster struck out twelve men and only gave one base on balls. J. Locke pitched for Newark.

There were no less than seven no-hit-no-run games in the league last season, six of which were made by Lancaster, at that place. Justus pitched four of them, while White and Mock officiated in the other two. Three of the games were against Newark, which team also met the same fate against Marion, with Lucas in the box for the latter team. The complete record is as follows: White of Lancaster against Newark, at Lancaster, May 31; Mock of Lancaster against Newark, at Lancaster, June 1; Justus of Lancaster against Mansfield, at Lancaster, July 19; Justus of Lancaster against Portsmouth at Lancaster, August 1; Justus of Lancaster against Lima, at Lancaster, September 8; Justus of Lancaster against Newark, at Lancaster, September 13; Lucas of Marion against Newark, at Marion, September 1.

Seven men batted over .300 in this league in 1908, Wolf of Macomb leading the van with .362, the runner-up being Williams of Hannibal, with .350, closely followed by Kommers of Havana with .349.

In run-getting Kommers of Havana again showed his versatility, leading the league in that department with the high mark of crossing the plate 75 times, while his team mate, Sampson, was second to him, as he was in base hits, with 61 runs to his credit.

Kommers of Havana made a good showing in base hits, having 153 in 114 games, his nearest opponent being Sampson, also of the Havana team, with 130 safe hits in 114 games, while Shields of Macomb was not so greatly distanced with 126 hits in 117 games.

The Interstate League, which opened its championship season on May 13, closed on June 7, owing to bad weather and other causes.

Pitcher Varner of Franklin on June 3 shut out Erie with one hit. At the same time pitcher Mullen held Franklin to one run and three hits.

Only seven men stole ten or more bases during the season, Traynor of Warren leading with 16, with Willoughby of Franklin a close second with 15.

According to the averages three men batted .400 and over and five over .300 in this league during its brief career. The .400 men were Weimer, .461; Sweeney, .447, and McDonald, .400, all of Olean.

Weimer of Olean led in base hits with 30 in eighteen games to his credit, and also was first in home runs with three. Price, another Olean player, scored the most runs in the league, having 27 in eighteen games.

Decatur on August 22 made 11 runs and 16 hits off the Clinton pitcher.

In two-base hits Vandine of Dubuque led with 35, followed by R. Smith of Springfield with 30.

Pitcher Case of Springfield on June 26 shut out Rock Island with two hits, both made by the same man.

In a five-inning game on September 1 between Cedar Rapids and Peoria the former won, 19—9, making fourteen runs in one inning.

The first triple play of the season was pulled off May 21 by third baseman Rodwin and first baseman Kuhner of Bloomington against Rock Island.

On May 12 Pitcher Wilder of Peoria struck out thirteen Decatur batsmen, and on the next day Pitcher Laudermilk, also of Peoria, duplicated the feat against Decatur.

Pitcher Laudermilk of Decatur on August 14 disposed of Peoria without a safe hit, but on account of his wildness and fielding errors they secured two runs, as against Decatur's six.

Long of Bloomington was high man in three-base hits, having 20, with Wagner of Decatur as the runner-up with 16, and in home runs Buelow of Clinton led the circuit hitters with 9 four-baggers, R. Smith of Springfield pressing him closely with 8.

In sacrifice hits Ruby of Springfield perished 50 times, Nye of Clinton 44 times and Moore of Decatur 42 times, while in stolen bases Plass of Dubuque, Herbert of Springfield and Hughes of Springfield were the three leaders with respective records of 56, 50 and 46.

On June 13 Pitcher Steiger of Springfield, in a double-header with Cedar Rapids, won both his games, and did not allow his opponents to score in either game. In the first game Steiger allowed Cedar Rapids but one hit and in the second they got but two hits off his delivery.

There were two extra inning games played on July 1 and July 3 in this league. The first, between Cedar Rapids and Decatur, went sixteen innings, which was won, as was also a double-header, by the Cedar Rapids team, by the scores of 2—1 and 3—2. The game on July 3 was between Cedar Rapids and Dubuque, and went seventeen innings without result, the score being a tie at 2—2.

There were seven players who batted .300 and over in this league the past season, Langdon of Bloomington leading with .333 in 16 games, closely pressed by Jacobson of Decatur and Collins of Cedar Rapids with .329 and .328 in 25 and 61 games, respectively. Tennant, in 140 games, batted .310 Tennant also led in base hits with 164. The leading run-getter of the league was Crozier with 82, who played in 138 games.

Newport on May 8 made 15 runs and 15 hits off two Argenta pitchers. Pine Bluff, on May 19, against Argenta, made the first triple play of the season in this league.

Hot Springs on August 26 made 20 runs (8 in one inning) and 21 hits off the Pine Bluff pitcher.

The race was rather uneven, in that Hot Springs, the leader, had .410 points advantage over Brinkley, the tail-end.

In the Poplar Bluff-Pine Bluff game of May 5 Pine Bluff made 16 runs and 21 hits to Poplar Bluff's 8 runs and 11 hits.

Pitcher Fay of Hot Springs on May 22 shut out Argenta with one scratch hit—a bunt—and on June 27 he shut out Brinkley with one hit.

In the Hot Springs-Poplar Bluff game of May 1 pitcher James Vaughan held Poplar Bluff to three hits and one run and struck out seventeen batsmen.

Benham of Helena led in stolen bases with 65, followed by Coyle of Hot Springs with 43, and Weber of Helena and Gfroerer of Pine Bluff tied at 41 each.

The Poplar Bluff club disbanded on June 1, and the franchise was transferred to Brinkley, which accepted Poplar Bluff's team and record, beginning June 8.

Pitcher Wright of Hot Springs on May 26 shut out Poplar Bluff without a hit in a 55 minutes' contest. Only twenty-seven men faced Wright, and he gave only two bases on balls.

Pitcher Draver of Pine Bluff on June 13 shut out Hot Springs with one hit. Only twenty-nine men faced him, and only two reached first base—one on a hit and the other on an error.

No less than fourteen players batted over .300 in this league last season, Hoffman of Newport being high man with .444, his nearest competitor being Coyle of Hot Springs with .376.

On July 29 pitcher McFarland of Helena shut out the Pine Bluff team with only twenty-six batters facing him, the twenty-seventh man being called out for failure to come up to the plate.

Coyle of Hot Springs led in number of base hits, having 178 in 473 times at bat, followed by Bromley of Argenta with 123 in 432 times at bat. Coyle also led in run getting, having 134 to his credit.

In the pitching department Vaughan of Hot Springs carried off the honors with 9 won and 1 lost, and Wright, also of Hot Springs, was second, with 27 won and 7 lost, while Hilgefort of Newport and Hot Springs won 25 and lost 8.

On April 20, all of the losers on that day—Omaha, Pueblo and Lincoln—were shut out.

Des Moines on April 25 in a five-inning game made 17 runs and 13 hits off two Denver pitchers.

On June 10 pitcher Jones of Lincoln shut out Sioux City without a hit, the first of the season in this league.

Pitcher Hollenbeck of Omaha on May 24 shut out Des Moines with one hit, and on June 1 pitcher Bonno of Lincoln shut out Omaha with one hit.

Harry Bay, whom Cleveland sold to Nashville, has made a big hit in his first game he reached first base five times and stole three bases. By shutting out Little Rock on August 17, Ralph Savidge, the Memphis club's finger-nail curver, purchased by Cincinnati, created a season's record in the Southern Association with but one run allowed in forty-five consecutive innings.

George Rohe of New Orleans, recently made a remarkable record of going through a game without being charged with a time at bat. Two sacrifices, a hit by pitched ball and a free pass, the last resulting in a run, was Rohe's record.

The first no-hit-no-run game of the Southern Association championship season was pitched Sunday, May 10, by James Buchanan of Little Rock. He shut out the Memphis team without the semblance of a safe drive. Buchanan's record was marred by but one base on balls, which allowed the only Memphian to reach first base.

Shinn of Santa Cruz was undoubtedly the most versatile member of this league, for besides leading in base hits and number of runs scored, and also batting at a .316 clip, he led in stolen bases, with 53 to his credit.

No less than eleven men batted over .300 in this league the past season. Chase of Stockton, formerly of the New York Americans, leading with .385 in twenty-one games, while Nealon of Sacramento batted .372 in sixty-two games.

The Oakland team of the California State League had a record for the season that was certainly unique. Out of 75 games played they won 4 and lost 71, with a percentage of .053, while San Francisco, in the same organization, did not greatly excel, winning only 9 games and losing 67, a percentage of .118.

Walters of San Jose led the pitchers with 25 won and 2 lost, a percentage of .926, with Henderson of Stockton second with the splendid record of 35 won and 5 lost, his percentage being .875, while Stricklett of San Jose, formerly of the Brooklyn National League club, was ninth in the list with a percentage of .657.

Eastern Illinois League

The Eastern Illinois League started out with Danville, Vincennes, Paris, Charleston, Mattoon, Pana, Shelbyville and Taylorville. Staunton bought Danville's franchise, Linton took Pana's place when they disbanded. Mattoon and Charleston dropped out, leaving a six-club league, which disbanded August 20. Standing at the close as follows:

Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.	Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Staunton	23	9	.718	Shelbyville	17	17	.500
Vincennes	23	10	.690	Taylorville	16	16	.500
Paris	17	15	.531	Linton	7	26	.212

Atlantic Association

The Atlantic Association opened its season May 2 and came to a quick end on May 21. The names of the clubs and standing are as follows:

Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.	Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Lewiston	8	3	.727	Newport	4	4	.500
Pawtucket	6	3	.667	Attleboro	1	11	.083
Portland	6	3	.667	Woonsocket	0	1	.000

Gulf Coast League

The Gulf Coast League started its season April 30 and, owing to continuous bad weather, the attendance was very light. The League decided to close on June 1. Standing of the clubs at the time of disbandment:

Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.	Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.

Alexandria	14	15	.483	Crowley	13	17	.433

International League

The International League opened its season May 20 and played until the last of July, when it disbanded. The standing of the clubs at the finish was:

Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.	Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Hamilton	22	18	.550	London	20	21	.489
St. Thomas	22	20	.524	Niagara Falls.....	19	24	.432

Maine League

The Maine League started its season with Portland, Bangor, Pine Tree, Biddeford, York Beach and Lewiston and played until August 28, when, with Portland leading, the League disbanded. York Beach and Pine Tree withdrew from the league in July and Lewiston transferred its franchise to Augusta. Standing at time of disbandment was:

Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.	Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Portland	32	20	.615	Augusta	20	26	.435
Bangor	31	22	.585	Biddeford	18	30	.375

Eastern Carolina League

The Eastern Carolina League began its initial season in 1908. The league started with Wilmington, Wilson, Goldsboro, Raleigh,

Kinston, Newbern. Early in July, Kinston and Newbern dropped and a new schedule was adopted. Wilson was declared the winner of the first series and Wilmington won the second series. In the play-off Wilmington defeated Wilson. The standing at the close of the season was as follows:

Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.	Club.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Wilmington	22	12	.647	Goldsboro	18	16	.523
Wilson	19	12	.613	Raleigh	8	27	.229

Owing to the neglect of the scorers in the towns to forward the official scores, no official records or averages were obtainable. The Wilmington club was under the direct control of R. H. Gwaltney, and the players were John Hoey, first base; James Sharp, second base; W. J. (Dick) Smith, third base and captain; M. Rath, shortstop; James Flynn, left field; Ed Doak, right field; W. Jays, center field; Clarence Wagner, utility; Albert Kite, catcher; Wm. Ross, catcher; Harvey Bussey, Harry Levy, Raymond Webster, H. Wysong, pitchers.

Outfield Sacrifice Hits

President Pulliam, in an interview in the New York Press of December 3, 1908, said: "I think the National League scorers made some mistakes in recording the outfield sacrifices last season. The official records show only 289 suicides of this kind, and I believe there ought to have been at least forty more. It looks odd to see such long hitters as Murray of St. Louis and Hummel of Brooklyn credited with only two sacrifice flies."

The new-fangled sacrifices were not included in the official batting records of the National League, but here they are, as recorded by the official scorers:

New York—Seymour 13, Donlin 10, Tenney 4, Bresnahan 4, Devlin 4, Mathewson 3, Barry 3, Wiltse 2, Strang 1, Shannon 1, Doyle 1, Bridwell 1, McGuinnity 1, Crandall 1. Total, 49.

Cincinnati—Ganzel 7, Huggins 5, Mitchell 5, Paskert 5, McLean 5, Hulswitt 4, Schlei 4, Lobert 4, Kane 2, Bescher 2, Spade 2, Mowrey 1, Ewing 1. Total, 47.

GRAND NATIONAL ALL-AMERICA BASE BALL TEAM

Players on National Championship Teams who have played in one position in 50 games (pitchers 25 games) or over and whose combined records of Fielding and Batting (pitchers' record includes Percentage of Victories, Fielding and Batting) rank the highest in each position covering the period of thirty-eight years from the commencement of Professional Base Ball, in 1871, to 1908, inclusive.

[NOTE.—The All-America Teams are made up of players in Champion Teams and not necessarily on best records.]

Position, Name and Club	Year	Games	Percentage Won	Fielding Percentage	Batting Percentage	Total
Pitcher— A. G. SPALDING Boston	1875	63	.899	.858	.318	2.075
Catcher— JOHN KLING Chicago	1906	96982	.312	1.294
First Base— A. C. ANSON Chicago	1881	83975	.399	1.374
Second Base— ROSS BARNES Boston	1873	60865	.453	1.318
Third Base— H. STEINFELDT Chicago	1906	150954	.327	1.281
Shortstop— GEO. WRIGHT Boston	1873	59940	.422	1.362
Left Field— JOS. J. KELLEY Baltimore	1894	129951	.391	1.342
Center Field—* HUGH DUFFY Boston	1893	131958	.378	1.336
Right Field— WM. KEELER Baltimore	1896	127973	.392	1.365
Total Average.....899	.940	.377	1.416

*Wm Keeler played center field on the Brooklyn team of 1899, and this position had a record in fielding of .970 and in batting of .376 a total of 1.346, which would entitle him to the center field position on the Grand National "All-America" Team, but as he had a higher record as right fielder of the Baltimore team in 1896, the center field was given to Hugh Duffy of Boston with the next highest record of 1.336. A clerical error was made in the Record Book of 1908, in placing Hugh Jennings' name in the shortstop position on the Grand National "All-America" Team, with his splendid record of .943 in fielding and .386 in batting, totaling 1.329, instead of Geo. Wright, with his still more remarkable record of .940 in fielding and .422 in batting, totaling 1.362.

PITCHERS' RECORD OF VICTORIES.

Pitchers (who have pitched in 25 games or over) having the highest percentage of victories for each year in Championship Games, from 1871 to 1908, inclusive.

"ALL AMERICA" TEAM—AMERICAN LEAGUE.

For the first six-year period, 1900 to 1905, inclusive.

Players on American League Championship teams who have played in one position in 50 games (pitchers 25 games) or over and whose combined records of Fielding and Batting (pitchers' record includes Percentage of Victories, Fielding and Batting) rank the highest in each position covering the different five-year periods are entitled to a place on the American "All America" teams for that period.

Some Pitching Feats

The season of 1908 was unquestionably a pitchers' year in both of the major leagues, in view of the unusual skill shown by the "twirlers" in minimizing hits in certain contests, and preserving good control of the ball at the same time.

The records of no-hit, one-hit, two-hit and three-hit games in the National League and the American League are as follows:

Catches Base Ball Dropped from Washington Monument

One of the unusual feats of the year was the catching of a Base Ball dropped from a window at the top of the Washington Monument. The player, who succeeded where others have failed, was Charles E. Street, catcher of the Washington club.

Ten times the ball was dropped to Street, but he failed to get it. Then it was pitched out, and not dropped, and on the thirteenth attempt he gauged the flight of the ball successfully and held it.

The ball did not drop in a straight flight, which he attributed to the wind that was blowing. It fell a distance of 505 feet, and when it reached his hands it is estimated that it was traveling at a velocity of 161 feet a second. The sound of the ball hitting the glove was so loud that it was plainly heard by the man at the top of the monument who was dropping the ball to Street.

Major and Minor Leagues' Meetings

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At the annual meeting of the National League of Base Ball Clubs, which was held in New York City at the Waldorf-Astoria beginning Tuesday, December 8, Harry C. Pulliam was re-elected president of the organization, and John A. Heydler was re-elected secretary and treasurer. The same Board of Directors that officiated in 1908 was re-elected. The board is made up of George B. Dovey, Boston; Charles H. Ebbets, Brooklyn; Barney Dreyfus, Pittsburg; August Hermann, Cincinnati, and Charles W. Murphy, Chicago.

All matter in reference to the amendment of the rules and in regard to the playing season of 1909 was referred to the adjourned meeting of the League, to be held in Chicago in February, 1909.

President Pulliam announced at the meeting that two of his umpires—William J. Klem, residing in New York City, and J. E. Johnstone, residing in Newark, N. J., reported to him after the final game of the season of 1908 at the Polo Grounds in New York, between the Chicago and the New York clubs, that some parties had approached them prior to the contest in reference to securing dishonest decisions on the field. The president announced that one of the umpires knew the names of the alleged bribers, but that to the other umpire they were strangers. It was stated that those who were supposed to be guilty had nothing to do in any way with organized Base Ball. A committee was appointed of John T. Brush, chairman; Charles H. Ebbets, August Hermann, and President Pulliam to prosecute the investigation. If sufficient evidence could be obtained it was announced that the case would be referred to the district attorney of New York.

On the last afternoon of the meeting of the National League the members of the American League for the first time since the adoption of the new National Agreement met with the members of the National League in joint conference at the Waldorf-Astoria.

The National League received a committee from the Eastern League and the American Association, whose members announced that they had resigned from the National Association and requested that the major leagues recognize their independence. It was agreed to postpone final action in the matter until after the meeting of the National Commission at Cincinnati, January 4.

The National League also adopted memorial resolutions upon the death of Henry Chadwick, the "Father of Base Ball," and the death of Frank Dellase Robison of Cleveland, former owner of the Cleveland and St. Louis clubs, and one of the best known members of the organization.

It was also agreed by the League to appropriate whatever fund is necessary to complete the sum which shall be needed to erect a monument over the grave of Henry Chadwick in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, and to appropriate annually a sufficient sum to keep the burial plot in order.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

The annual meeting of the American League was held at the Hotel Wolcott in New York, beginning December 9. Charles W. Somers was re-elected vice-president. The Board of Directors, it was announced, would be selected from the Detroit, St. Louis, Philadelphia, and Washington clubs.

The League voted to post the names of the men in the batting order on the score boards at their various parks. It was also agreed to make it the duty of the umpires to report at the various grounds forty minutes before the beginning of each game and to take charge of the practice. In the future visiting clubs will not be allowed to give passes in any city.

The committee from the Class A leagues called upon the American League members, announcing their resignation from the National Association, but no formal action was taken on the matter by the American League members.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the National Association of Minor League Clubs was held in Chicago November 10, 11, and 12. The attendance was the largest in the history of the organization. The total amount of money paid through the secretary's office for players during 1908 was shown to be $251,250.

Members of the Class A clubs demanded that the Western League and the Southern League be reduced to Class B and that the National Board of Arbitration be reduced from seven members to five members, three of whom should come from Class A clubs. This was refused and the Class A clubs left the meeting.

It was voted to increase the drafting price in Classes C and D. The Association adjourned, with D. M. Shively of Kansas City acting as chairman, in view of the fact that President P. T. Powers, who is also president of the Eastern League, had withdrawn with the members of that organization. It was decided to place the matter before the National Commission.

"SLIDING TO SECOND."

Bronze Trophy presented by A. G. Spalding in 1908 to the Public Schools Athletic League of Greater New York, to be competed for annually by the High Schools in that organization. The first winner was Commercial High School, Borough of Manhattan, New York.

The A. G. Spalding Base Ball Trophy

Extracts from Mr. A. G. Spalding's address on the occasion of the Presentation of the Spalding Trophy to the winners of the High School Base Ball Championship of Greater New York, at the Commercial High School, Brooklyn, N. Y., October 7, 1908.

When the Public Schools Athletic League announced its intention of holding annual Base Ball Championships for the high schools of Greater New York and asked me to supply a suitable trophy to commemorate these contests, it gave me pleasure to comply with this request. I have been officially informed that the representative team of the Commercial High School won this trophy for the first year on their remarkable record of eight victories and no defeats. While I congratulate this team on its success, I am almost sorry you did not lose at least one game just to acquaint you with the feelings of the other fellows.

I am one of those who believe that athletic sports, properly controlled, are destined to become a very important factor in the education of our youth, and is entitled to its proper place in the curriculum of all institutions of learning.

The classroom is the place to acquire the rudiments or basis of an education, and the athletic field is the place to apply that knowledge and instill into the mind of the growing boy the absolute necessity of self-control, poise, nerve, confidence and aggressiveness, so essential to properly fit the young man to successfully cope with modern conditions. In athletic sports, especially in Base Ball, a boy soon learns that losing his temper on the field is almost equivalent to losing the match. A player must have his wits about him all the time, for there is no place on the team for the dreamer or laggard. He must be alert and ready for any sudden emergency and should not lose his head and run to the clubhouse instead of second base, as one of the New York Giants did last week, which little simple piece of thoughtlessness cost the New Yeks not only the loss of that particular game, but also the loss of the National League pennant and probably the World's Championship.

When you are playing the second innings, focus your whole thoughts and energy on the minute details of that innings, and don't allow your mind to wander off to what may happen in the seventh or ninth innings, or how joyous you will feel if your team is victorious, or how sad a defeat will make you and your friends. A Base Ball player must school himself to be prepared for anything. He should not become too much elated in victory or too much cast down in defeat, but remember that the victor of to-day may be the vanquished of tomorrow.

Plenty of victories, interspersed with frequent defeats, makes for that self-poise in the boy that is so essential to the rounded-out man.

The thoughtful boy that will apply the lessons he learns on the athletic field to the more serious problems of his after-life, will be surprised how easy it is to overcome obstacles that at the time seem well nigh insurmountable.

I understand that the two thousand boys in this school are fitting themselves for commercial pursuits and a business life. Now let me assure you that if you will apply the same thoughtful consideration to the lessons taught on the ball field, that you should to the lessons taught in the classroom, you will look back in your mature years and say that the hard knocks you received on the athletic field in your youth and the practical experience you gained in meeting your equals in competitive sport gave you a better knowledge of human nature and the principles underlying modern business affairs than you ever acquired from books or lectures.

In your classroom center your minds on the studies in hand and don't give a thought to athletic sports, but on the ball field give no thought to your mathematics and grammar, but focus your mind on the game in progress. Be optimistic (there is no place on the team for the pessimist). Play hard, play to win, but play fair.

The Spalding Official National League Ball

"THE BALL PLAYED ROUND THE WORLD"

HARRY C. PULLIAM,
President of National League since 1903.

The Spalding Official National League Ball is the Original League Ball, it is the Universally Adopted League Ball, it is the Best League Ball.

There are in the United States 41 Professional Base Ball Leagues under the control of the National Commission and playing in accordance with the National Agreement and according to the Official Rules. Of these 41 Leagues 28 have adopted the Spalding Official National League Ball. With most of them the adoption has been in effect since the organization of the leagues themselves, while others have adopted the Spalding Ball for periods of from 4 to 20 years, and recently organized leagues from 1 to 4 years. A complete roster of all the Professional Leagues that have adopted the Spalding Official National League Ball during the past thirty-two years would make a list embracing the vast majority of all leagues organized during that time and would be impossible to compile, as many leagues adopt the Spalding Ball and fail to advise us of the fact.

The Spalding Official National League Ball was first adopted by the National League in 1878, and is the only ball that has been used in Championship League Games since that time. In addition to the different American adoptions, the Spalding Official National League Ball has been made the official ball by the governing Base Ball Associations of Mexico, Cuba, Canada, Australia, South Africa, Great Britain, Philippine Islands, Japan, and, in fact, wherever Base Ball is played. The Spalding Official National League Ball has received this universal adoption because of its well established reputation for uniformity and high quality, but the special object of such adoptions, from the players' stand-point, is to secure absolute uniformity in a ball, that will prevent unfair "jockeying" with an unknown ball, and make National and International Base Ball contests possible, and at the same time make the records of players of value, and uniform throughout the world, which can only be secured by standardizing one well known ball.

The Spalding Official National League Ball is used by Yale, Harvard, Princeton and all prominent college teams, and by the soldiers and sailors in the United States Army and Navy. In fact, the Spalding Official National League Ball is in universal use wherever Base Ball is played. Once in a while a minor league will experiment for a short time with some other ball, but invariably returns to the Spalding Official National League Ball, which has now become universally recognized the Standard of the World.

The National League of Professional Base Ball Clubs
ST. JAMES BUILDING, 1135 BROADWAY
New York, N.Y.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

June 1st, 1908.

I hereby certify that Spalding's Official National League Ball has been the adopted and only official ball of the National League since 1878. This ball must be used in all Championship Games.

Harry C. Pulliam

Pres't National League.

Base Ball Implements for 1909

The Spalding complete line of Base Balls for 1909 comprises fourteen different kinds; the leader, of course, being the Spalding Official National League Ball, which has been the official ball of the game since 1878. It has been termed "the ball played round the world," because of its universal use wherever the game is played—and it is now world-wide in extent.

In bats the leader is the Gold Medal Autograph Bat, so-called because Spalding has secured permission from many of the leading batters of both the National and American Leagues to duplicate the models used by them and stamp the fac-simile of the players' signatures on each bat. Some of the models so stamped are the "Frank L. Chance Autograph" Bat; the "George R. Stone Autograph;" the "M. J. Donlin Autograph;" the "Roger P. Bresnahan Autograph;" the "John J. Evers Autograph" and the "Wm. H. Keeler Autograph." However, with all the models made by Spalding, there are many players who have their own ideas of a bat, or who wish to incorporate the various points of several players' bats. To accommodate such batters Spalding will make to order any kind of a bat, from description furnished, accompanied by the measurements of length, weight, etc. These bats cost only $1.00 each, same as the "Players' Autograph," but require several weeks' time. The other bats listed by Spalding comprise the "Black Diamond," new this year, at $1.00; the "Record," 75 cents; the latter is put up in dozen lots, assorted as to weight and length, and especially recommended for club, school and college use (boys' Record bats, assorted, cost 50 cents each); the Mushroom bat, with the patent knob arrangement at handle, 50 cents, and the old "Spalding Trade-Mark" line, which is kept up to date with latest models, at 50, 35 and 25 cents each (boys' 25 and 10 cents each).

The line of catchers' mitts, basemen's mitts, fielders' mitts and infielders' gloves is bewildering in quantity. Any player, however particular, cannot fail to be suited both in quality and price.

In the uniform line it would be practically impossible for any one else to equal Spalding in variety of patterns and combinations. Base ball uniforms require great strength in the material, on account of the excessively rough usage to which they are subjected, and which cannot be found in—or expected from—the ordinary lines of cloths. These goods are made up for Spalding exclusively, for this one purpose, and tailored by men who are base ball tailors, a matter which requires as much expertness in cutting and fitting as a high class custom made suit of clothes. If "clothes make the man," then a good uniform helps to make a ball player, because no player can do himself justice in an ill-fitting, slovenly-cut suit.

The matter of shoes for a player is probably the most important part of his equipment. A shoe that does not fit, that is not "just right," is a serious handicap. That is where the superiority of the Spalding shoe is exemplified. It is made by shoemakers who make only athletic shoes, and their experience enables them to give every detail to a shoe that a player requires. Most of the prominent players have their shoes made to order by Spalding, who keeps a last for each player, and the individual peculiarity and requirements of hundreds of players centering in one factory, make it a great clearing house of ideas, which no ordinary shoemaker or manufacturer can ever possibly obtain.

Space only permits us to touch in a general way on the more important parts of the equipment of a ball team. A complete description of everything required for base ball, and every other athletic sport, including pictures and prices of the goods, requires a 144-page catalogue, which can be obtained from any Spalding store (see list of houses on inside front cover—writing to the nearest one will save time) by sending a request on a postal; or, if interested only in base ball, ask for the special base ball catalogue, a handsome, illustrated 48-page publication. Either catalogue will be mailed free anywhere.

GOLD MEDAL AUTOGRAPH BATS

In order to satisfy the demand for bats of the same models as used by leading players, we have obtained permission from many of the leading batters of the country to include in our line of high-grade bats these Gold Medal "Autograph" Bats, bearing their signature.

Space will not permit a description of all the various models, but the following have been selected as examples of what we are producing in this special "Players' Autograph" Bat Department.

No. 100. Plain oil finish. Each, $1.00

Frank L. Chance
 Autograph Model

This is a very large Bat with a fairly thick handle. Bats supplied will not weigh less than 45 nor over 48 ounces. Length about 35 inches.

M. J. Donlin
 Autograph Model

This is also a large Bat, about an inch shorter than the Chance Model, but with more bulk throughout and a somewhat heavier handle. Bats will not weigh less than 16 nor over 50 ounces. Length about 31 inches.

Chas. T. Greenbaum
 Autograph Model

This Bat is somewhat shorter than the Chance model, medium thick handle and rounded end. Bats supplied will not weigh less than 41 nor over 43 ounces. Length about 32½ inches.

Wm. H. Keeler
 Autograph Model

This model and the Chance Bat touch the two extremes in models and weights used by the great majority of prominent professional players. The Keeler Model is short and has fairly thin handle. Bats supplied will not weigh less than 36 nor over 39 ounces. Length about 31 inches.

John J. Egan
 Autograph Model

A symmetrically shaped Bat of good bulk and medium thick handle. Bats supplied will not weigh less than 42 nor more than 45 ounces. Length about 32½ inches.

Geo. P. Stone
 Autograph Model

This is a large Bat, the same length as the Chance model, but somewhat different shape and not quite as thick handle. Bats will not weigh less than 43 nor over 46 ounces. Length 35 inches.

CORRESPONDENCE—If you wish any particular model bat and will describe same, in addition to giving length and weight, we will endeavor to fulfil your specifications. As these bats are made to order only, at least two weeks time may be required.

Each $1.00

SPALDING "BLACK DIAMOND" BAT

No. 100D. Same quality as our Gold Medal Autograph Bats, in the most popular models. The special finish used is a similar preparation to that which professional players rub on their bats. Ea., $1.00

Spalding Record Bat

Plain oil finish. Made from the most popular models, but finished in rough and ready style, with no polish—simply the plain oil finish. Especially recommended for club use, including college and school teams. Packed one dozen in a crate (assorted lengths from 30 to 35 inches and weights from 36 to 42 ounces), as nearly as possible in the following proportion:

LENGTHS	WEIGHTS
1-30in. 2-33in.	1-36oz. 2-39oz.
1-31in. 4-34in.	1-37oz. 4-40, 41oz.
2-32in. 2-35in.	2-38oz. 2-41, 42oz.

These lengths and weights are given approximately and as a rule the shortest lengths will be the lightest weights.

No. 75. Plain oil finish. Ea., 75c.

SPALDING TRADE-MARK BATS

No. 50T No. 50 No. 35T No. 25

Since 1877, when we introduced the Spalding line of Trade-Mark Bats, they have been recognized as standard by players to whom quality is a consideration. Wherever possible, we have improved both style and quality from time to time and the assortment as now made up comprises absolutely the most up-to-date and thoroughly trustworthy styles that can be produced. The timber used in their construction is seasoned in open sheds, exposed to the weather from two to three years before using, thus ensuring not only a lighter and stronger bat, but also retaining the life quality and driving power of the natural wood.

THE BASEBALL MAGAZINE COMPANY
Boston, Mass

CAUTION TO THE BASE BALL BOYS OF 1909

Because of your youth and inexperience, advantage is frequently taken of you base ball boys, by the so called "Just as Good" dealer, who tries to palm off on you some of his "Just as Good" Base Ball goods, made especially for him by the "Just as Good" manufacturer, when you call for the Spalding goods. You are cautioned not to be deceived by this "Just as Good" combination, for when you get onto the field you will find these "Just as Good" Balls, Bats, Mitts, etc., will not stand the wear and punishment of the genuine Spalding articles. Remember that Spalding goods are standard the world over, and are used by all the leading clubs and players. These "Just as Good" manufacturers endeavor to copy the Spalding styles, adopt the Spalding descriptive matter and Spalding list prices, and then try to see how very cheap and showy they can make the article, so the "Just as Good" dealer can work off these imitations on the unsuspecting boy.

Don't be deceived by the attractive 25 to 40 per cent. discount that may be offered you, for remember that their printed prices are arranged for the special purpose of misleading you and to enable the "Just as Good" dealer to offer you this special discount bait. This "discount" pill that the "Just as Good" dealer asks you to swallow is sugar coated and covered up by various catchy devices, that are well calculated to deceive the inexperienced boy, who will better understand these tricks of the trade as he grows older. Remember that all Spalding Athletic Goods are sold at the established printed prices, and no dealer is permitted to sell them at a greater or less price. Special discounts on Spalding Goods are unknown. Everybody is treated alike. This policy persistently adhered to makes it possible to maintain from year to year the high quality of Spalding Athletic Goods, which depend for their sale on Spalding Quality, backed by the broad Spalding Guarantee, and not on any deceiving device like this overworked and fraudulent "Discount" scheme adopted by all the "Just as Good" dealers.

Occasionally one of these "Just as Good" dealers will procure some of the Spalding well known red boxes, place them in a showy place on his shelves, and when Spalding Goods are called for, will take from these Spalding boxes one of the "Just as Good" things, and try to palm it off on the boy as a genuine Spalding article. When you go into a store and ask for a Spalding article, see to it that the Spalding Trade-Mark is on that article, and if the dealer tries to palm off on you something "Just as Good," politely bow yourself out and go to another store, where the genuine Spalding article can be procured.

In purchasing a genuine Spalding Athletic article, you are protected by the broad Spalding Guarantee, which reads as follows:

We Guarantee to each purchaser of an article bearing the Spalding Trade-Mark that such article will give satisfaction and a reasonable amount of service, when used for the purpose for which it was intended and under ordinary conditions and fair treatment.

We Agree to repair or replace free of charge any such article which proves defective in material or workmanship: PROVIDED such defective article is returned to us, transportation prepaid, during the season in which it was purchased, accompanied by the name, address and a letter from the user explaining the claim.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

Beware of the "Just as Good" manufacturer, who makes "pretty" Athletic Goods (as if they were for use as an ornament) at the expense of "quality," in order to deceive the dealer; and beware of the substitute-dealer who completes the fraud by offering the "Just as Good" article, when Spalding Goods are asked for.

A. G. Spalding & Bros.

Standard Quality

An article that is universally given the appellation "Standard" is thereby conceded to be the Criterion, to which are compared all other things of a similar nature. For instance, the Gold Dollar of the United States is the Standard unit of currency, because it must legally contain a specific proportion of pure gold, and the fact of its being Genuine is guaranteed by the Government Stamp thereon. As a protection to the users of this currency against counterfeiting and other tricks, considerable money is expended in maintaining a Secret Service Bureau of Experts. Under the law, citizen manufacturers must depend to a great extent upon Trade-Marks and similar devices to protect themselves against counterfeit products—without the aid of "Government Detectives" or "Public Opinion" to assist them.

Consequently the "Consumer's Protection" against misrepresentation and "inferior quality" rests entirely upon the integrity and responsibility of the "Manufacturer."

A. G. Spalding & Bros. have, by their rigorous attention to "Quality," for thirty-three years, caused their Trade-Mark to become known throughout the world as a Guarantee of Quality as dependable in their fields as the U. S. Currency is in its field.

The necessity of upholding the guarantee of the Spalding Trade-Mark and maintaining the Standard Quality of their Athletic Goods, is, therefore, as obvious as is the necessity of the Government in maintaining a Standard Currency.

Thus each consumer is not only insuring himself but also protecting other consumers when he assists a Reliable Manufacturer in upholding his Trade-Mark and all that it stands for. Therefore, we urge all users of our Athletic Goods to assist us in maintaining the Spalding Standard of Excellence, by insisting that our Trade-Mark be plainly stamped on all athletic goods which they buy, because without this precaution our best efforts towards maintaining Standard Quality and preventing fraudulent substitution will be ineffectual.

Manufacturers of Standard Articles invariably suffer the reputation of being high-priced, and this sentiment is fostered and emphasized by makers of "inferior goods," with whom low prices are the main consideration.

A manufacturer of recognized Standard Goods, with a reputation to uphold and a guarantee to protect, must necessarily have higher prices than a manufacturer of cheap goods, whose idea of and basis of a claim for Standard Quality depends principally upon the eloquence of the salesman.

We know from experience that there is no quicksand more unstable than poverty in quality—and we avoid this quicksand by Standard Quality.
